ACER is able to offer you an additional seminar to this programme for those who have booked to attend Gareth Cronin's workshop on the same morning from 2.00p.m. to 3.30p.m.

Birketts LLP, a law practice with specialists in further education, will take delegates through the legal aspects of working with learners who have challenging behaviour and give you guidance, together with any relevant case law that has emerged.

This session will include active practical consideration of circumstances that you may, or have been, encountered in colleges under current legislation.

For an additional fee of £25 per delegate you will have access to advice and information that would cost your organisation considerably more if provided on an individual basis by a law company, we commend that you add this update to your booking for the main workshop lead by Gareth Cronin."
